2019–2020 Annual Report

On the Property

When St. Benedict's Prep considered the clubs and activities that could meet safely on the Property for Fall Term, Drumline was an obvious candidate. The ensemble involves approximately eight Gray Bees, who can practice outdoors at a social distance.

Drumline returned to The Hive for its first practice on September 21. The weekly in-person sessions are definitely a step back to normalcy for the kids involved. "Drumline normally exists as a Summer Phase class and it did this year, as well," explained Director of Music Jeremy Fletcher, D.M.A. "We held it virtually, but with any music ensemble online, there's always going to be syncing and lagging issues."

Implementing a robust roster of after-school activities and clubs was integral to Still 24/7: Fall 2020 COVID-19 Response Plan to keep kids engaged and connected to community during this pandemic year. There are currently 29 clubs or activities offered to Middle and Prep Division students that are taking place virtually, in-person or a hybrid of the two.

Corrections

In the Summer issue of St. Benedict's Prep magazine, Pete Prunkl was incorrectly listed in the Class of 1963 and Stephen Downer was incorrectly listed in the Class of 2008. Mr. Prunkl is a proud member of the Class of 1959 and Mr. Downer is a proud member of the Class of 2009. We apologize for these errors.

On the cover:

Despite the many challenges and hardships of COVID-19, St. Benedict's Prep remains open 24/7.

GREETINGS

Forward, Always Forward

Ever since COVID-19 halted life as we know it, The Hive has hardly missed a beat. From the first Virtual Convo that began 72 hours after the School transitioned to remote learning, to the intensive planning that reinvented Fall Term, St. Benedict's Prep has been the light our city and nation can look to for strength and hope.

The resilience we've shown is nearly 50 years in the making. Adults have been innovating our unique educational model since the day the School re-opened in 1973. Kids who run the School build a legacy of leadership and excellence each year for their younger brothers and sisters to follow. The stories in this Annual Report are a testament to the people who make The Hive work. As an alumnus, co-moderator of the Gray Bee Investment Club and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, I've never been prouder of my connection to St. Benedict's Prep. You should be, too.

This Annual Report talks about numbers, and the numbers for 2019-2020 are very good. We honor 3,460 donors, an increase of 8% from last year. We see a rising tide of first-time giving — 34% more than last year — and 904 repeat donors have increased their gifts from the previous year. Alumni participation, too, increased for the fifth consecutive year, bolstering our commitment to passing on a St. Benedict's education to future generations.

Numbers alone don't fully convey the story of increased participation at St. Benedict's. Alumni and friends who live blocks away from 520 MLK Boulevard and those on the other side of the globe join Virtual Convo on a daily basis. Even as we must remain apart physically, we remain connected as a community.

The future is still filled with challenge, but St. Benedict's, as an institution and as a community, is already ahead of the curve. We will take the lessons we are learning in these unprecedented times and move forward, always forward. We hope you will continue to share the journey with us.

Sincerely,

Robert J. DiQuollo '65
Chairman, Board of Trustees

Unseen Art

50 Years of Hispanic and Latino Legacy: 1970-2020

Freshmen Drawings, Winter 2020 semester, color marker on Bristol board. Inspired by Mexican Folk Art Angel Sculptures.

The annual schoolwide celebration of the Interdisciplinary Project each March is a big night for art at The Hive. Last spring, the Interdisciplinary event would have exhibited an eclectic and important collection of artwork exploring the theme, “50 Years of Hispanic Legacy at St. Benedict’s Prep: 1970-2020.” Art Department Chair Pamela Wye-Hunsinger H’18 was helping art students transform sketches into large-scale murals when St. Benedict’s Prep pivoted to remote learning on March 13.

To date, the student works remain unseen because of the ongoing pandemic. The collection is housed in the art room and includes graphic novels students developed from interviews with family members or people in the St. Benedict’s community, murals depicting themes in Latin and South American culture, a study of Mexican folk art angels and more. The theme marks a significant milestone in the history of the School, and was chosen to examine the impact of Latinx and Hispanic students, faculty, staff and alumni on St. Benedict’s, according to Ms. Wye-Hunsinger.

To view additional works from the collection, visit Facebook.com/GrayBees or Instagram @GrayBees.

NEW ASSOCIATE HEADMASTER

Since St. Benedict’s Prep became a K-12 school, academic departments like math and science develop curriculum, programs and goals with every division – Elementary, Middle and Prep – in mind. This long-term view applies to student leadership, as well, and will be overseen by Glenn Cassidy, Ed.D. '90, who was named Associate Headmaster of Community and Leadership in September.

“It’s bringing a coordinated approach and cohesion to a lot of great work being done with freshmen, senior leaders and in the Middle and Elementary Divisions,” said Dr. Cassidy. The new position is one of three key roles created in recent years to advance the mission, traditions and success of St. Benedict’s. Michelle Tuorto H’16 was appointed Associate Headmaster for Academics and Ivan Lamourt, Psy.D. '82 assumed the post of Associate Headmaster for Student Life in 2018. Dr. Cassidy will continue to serve as Director of the Vox Institute.

THE HIVE MAKES HEADLINES

Gray Bees first learned about the Investment Club started by Dean of Administration Michael Scanlan H’97 and Chairman of the Board of Trustees Robert J. DiQuollo '65 in the summer issue of St. Benedict’s Prep magazine. Since then, the club that connects students with successful young alumni in the fields of finance and business has garnered local and national attention from The Today Show online, Bloomberg News Radio, and NJBIZ.

Many other media outlets found reason to cover good news happening from The Hive. New Jersey Monthly magazine profiled Br. Simon Peter Clayton, O.S.B. '08 and Br. Asiel Rodriguez, O.S.B., for a story about the rising number of young monks discerning a vocation at Newark Abbey. The Star-Ledger opinion page published editorials by Dean of Counseling Sinclair Davis, Psy.D., and Headmaster Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63, who penned an op-ed addressing systemic racism, “At this school, the reckoning is here.”

U.S. Catholic magazine found inspiration at St. Benedict’s, as well. The publication’s October issue featured the School prominently in the article, “How Catholic high schools are building more just communities.”

Up and Running

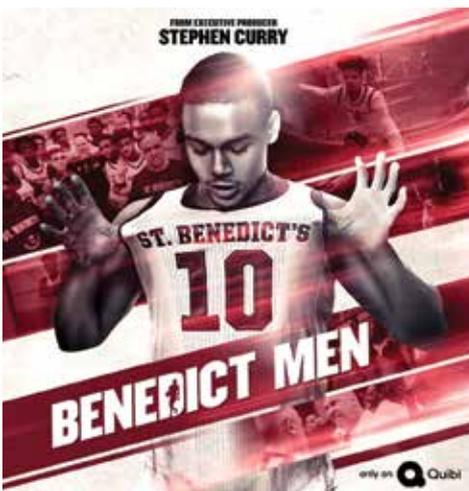

New track unveiled

Gray Bees have a refurbished track at their disposal for sports practices, workouts and training for The Overnight and The Trail. The resurfacing project was completed before Summer Phase thanks to a lead gift from William Terry Doan and the contributions of 19 donors and one corporation to date. Mr. Doan is a generous and loyal friend to The Hive. After learning about St. Benedict's Prep in the 2016 60 Minutes program on the School, he funded 12 scholarships for Doan Scholars. The first class of Doan Scholars graduated in 2020.

NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT SHINES ON ST. BENEDICT'S ONCE AGAIN

After "Benedict Men," the 12-part docuseries that followed the Gray Bee basketball team through its 2018-2019 season, aired on Quibi in September, the national spotlight shone on St. Benedict's Prep once again. With A-listers like NBA star Stephen Curry serving as executive producer of the project, and Emmy Award-winning filmmaker Jonathan Hock onboard, "Benedict Men" attracted major media coverage.

E! Online, CBSsports.com, The Washington Post, The Los Angeles Times and numerous outlets favorably reviewed or recommended the docuseries. Closer to home, Headmaster Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63 and Head Coach Mark Taylor made a joint appearance on Good Day New York on Fox 5 to discuss the School's approach to basketball and accompanying young men through hardship and challenge. Fr. Ed was also interviewed by The National Catholic Reporter, Hang Up and Listen, a sports podcast on Slate, News 12

New Jersey, The Star-Ledger and the Christian Broadcasting Network.

C.J. Wilcher '19 and Madani Diarra '19, members of 2018-2019 team, appeared on "The Kelly Clarkson Show" in September. "We all come from different backgrounds, and have our own different stories," said C.J.. "Coming together at the School, we all fight to have a common goal and that's to have each other's back and build a brotherhood."

STAND TOGETHER TAPS DEAN OF COLLEGE GUIDANCE FOR ADVISORY BOARD

When the University of Chicago launched UChicago Stand Together, a commitment to increase educational access and career success for underrepresented students this summer, they tapped Dean of College Guidance and Seniors Didier Jean-Baptiste '86 to serve on its advisory board.

Mr. Jean-Baptiste is excited about the opportunity. "The University of Chicago really stands out in their efforts to attract diverse students," he said. As an advisory board member, Mr. Jean-Baptiste will provide input and guidance to help UChicago Stand Together achieve its goal of expanding pathways to college for people of color, veterans and other underrepresented groups.

The New Jersey Admissions Representative for the University of Chicago visited The Hive last year, and Mr. Jean-Baptiste hopes to bolster the connection between St. Benedict's and the research university, which is ranked sixth in the U.S. News & World Report Best National Universities for 2021.

Ingenuity and Flexibility Bring Structure to Fall Term

Faculty at The Hive may be experts in different academic subjects, but they all buy-in to accompanying kids and adapting to changing circumstances when necessary. COVID-19 put these qualities to the test, especially the St. Benedict's team charged with creating the structure for Fall Term.

Michelle Tuorto, Ph.D. H'16, Associate Headmaster for Academics, Jim Duffy H'16, Dean of the Middle Division, and Rich Molina '06, physics teacher and head fencing coach, spent countless hours reviewing options and outlining schedules before arriving at the plan enacted in September. It was an immensely complex task, yet the group's unseen work allowed school and life to move forward for more than 850 Gray Bees.

"We're not a school where all the sophomores have the same classes," explained Mrs. Tuorto. "Every kid has a different schedule." The 2020-2021 academic year also needed to accommodate the introduction of Girls Prep Division. Another challenge, Mrs. Tuorto recalled, was how to group students for in-person activities. "We couldn't have them mixing and call it safe," she said, "it didn't follow the science."

The trio spent weeks developing a cohort model, where students would be grouped in the same classes. But there were major drawbacks. Not all students would get the classes they want — or need. "And need is the biggest concern," said Mrs. Tuorto. The "aha moment" came when the team realized cohorts could be based on activities instead of academic classes.

For the Prep and Middle Divisions, that meant Gray Bees would take all classes virtually. A select number then join their cohort on the Property in a club or sport. Each student would have only one in-person cohort. For example, a soccer player would be in the soccer team cohort. Other cohorts meeting on the Property include Drama Guild, Drumline and Middle Division leadership.

"St. Benedict's is offering more clubs than ever before," Mr. Duffy said. Many are virtual, so students can participate in an activity that meets remotely, like Book Club or Investment Club, in addition to their in-person cohort. All faculty, except those with qualifying health issues, conduct classes from the Property.

Mr. Molina said being back in the classroom has restored some sense of normalcy. "There is still a bit of an adjustment to being back on the Property without students." But, he added, the 70-inch Promethean smart boards and access to high-quality cameras in the classroom help.

Approximately 200 kids come to the Property on any given day, including activity cohorts, as well as three student groups who come to The Hive for their virtual classes. A group of students from the Girls Prep Division work from Radel Library and the Crew Team cohort takes classes together in the gymnasium. All learners on the Property are supervised by dedicated staff.

The third group, Conversio (a Latin phrase meaning revolving or turning around), meets in the cafeteria and includes students welcomed back to 520 MLK Boulevard because they had struggled with remote learning. "They have been doing much better with more structure," said Mr. Duffy. The creation of Conversio was a direct response to what was learned during the initial period of virtual learning last spring, and St. Benedict's will continue to adjust and modify its model as needed.

"Everything is fluid," Mr. Duffy added. "But we're set up to go virtual if we need to, or add to the numbers of who is on the Property each day. The most important thing is that we've been able to maintain our identity as a School throughout this pandemic by making adjustments."

Next-Level Critical Thinking and Writing

'BLACK LITERATURE AND THE ESSAY' INTRODUCED IN FALL TERM

The COVID-19 pandemic is not the only ongoing current event that will prove formative in the lives of today's St. Benedict's Prep students. Everyone is also watching, in real time, incidents of systemic racial injustice – and the reactions against it – in communities across the country. As people make their voices heard, the written word is another way to document and to process these historic developments.

"If I could teach any course at any one time, this would be it. It's important for this time and for all involved," said first-year English teacher Bimpe Fageyinbo, whose new class is called, "Black Literature and the Essay."

The day-to-day realities of people of color are explored as students read literature from across the African Diaspora. The course encompasses works by luminaries such as Toni Morrison, Alice Walker and Nikki Giovanni, as well as contemporary authors like Ibram X. Kendi, Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie and Bell Hooks. "The heart of the class is for students to write essays in ways they may not be used to," Ms. Fageyinbo said. This can involve reading a collection of stories by Toni Morrison, watching a lecture by the author, and addressing deeper questions in seminar-style discussion and writing.

"In addition to summarizing and analyzing the work of an author, the intention is for students to be able to respond to the issues raised by these authors and advance the conversation," Ms. Fageyinbo continued. "It takes critical analysis and writing to the next level of their academic careers."

The new literature and writing class extends the flourishing of literary creativity that began with the opening of the Writing Center last fall. This after-school resource, part of an effort to develop a culture of good writing at The Hive, is a place for students to get help with all types of writing. A required Freshman Writing Seminar was added for Fall Term in 2020, while the Going Viral blog, a project of The Benedict News that launched last March to chronicle the impact of the pandemic, had a new group of editors and writers blogging about the 2020 Presidential Election.

Ms. Fageyinbo is also teaching "Creative Writing and Media," a new course adapted from a journalism class she taught to undergraduates at Rutgers-Newark, and she is the moderator of the School's literary journal, Kayrix. She was no stranger to St. Benedict's before she became a faculty member here, having attended events for The Benedict News and Black History Month.

"I was impressed by these students even before I got to the School," Ms. Fageyinbo said. "I'm really excited about the conversations in both classes and seeing what sparks their interest and the connections that they make. The students are very much into the work."

RACE TO ACTION

Systemic racism. Gun violence. Income inequality. Racial injustice witnessed in real time as unarmed Black Americans are killed by police. The issues making headlines impact the students of St. Benedict's Prep directly. With Race to Action, a new group formed in July, Gray Bees have an outlet to process their reactions to events and issues and do something constructive about them.

Troi Slade '22, one of the core leaders of the group, sums up its purpose succinctly. "We get deep into the actual issues and then figure out how to combat these issues directly." Like most things St. Benedict's, Race to Action is student-led and run. A core group of 10 student-leaders organize discussions and panels to fully inform Race to Action participants on the issues. Action has centered on a Voting Rights Challenge to get more people within the St. Benedict's community and beyond, to vote and become civically engaged.

The club can draw as many as 30 kids and adults to its weekly meetings. Moderators Justin Ross, Chair of the English Department, and History Teacher Louis Lainé '12, provide general support and operational guidance on initiatives like a recent Voter Registration Drive. The sense of urgency among the students in this group is palpable. "We can't let the adults handle everything," said Troi. "We need to be the ones putting laws together and doing the community organizing that will put us in a better place."

They've cleared every hurdle placed in front of them. When a group of determined young women wanted to start a Girls Prep Division at St. Benedict's following the closure of Benedictine Academy (BA), Headmaster Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63 said they'd need 70 students. The young women recruited 77 by Fall Term.

Though they were all new to The Hive and didn't have veteran upperclassmen to guide them, the group earned their way into the St. Benedict's community through an intensive summer orientation and a leadership class for UDIIs (juniors) and seniors. Girls were offered leadership applications and participated in workshops facilitated by Victory Road, a leadership organization led by retired Navy SEALs.

"I was confident the young ladies would work well together," said Dean of the Girls Prep Division Analisa Branco, the former Director of Admissions at BA. "They communicated — they were like one unit." By mid-September the Inaugural Senior Leadership Team was ready. It includes a seven-member Operational Group taking care of day-to-day management and a three-member Strategic Group tasked with promoting the new Division.

Senior Group Leader Agnes Aghanwa '21 said the team is focused on building the community and traditions that will support them now and into the future. "We want to make sure that every girl can grow into a leader when the time comes."

Straight Scoop on College

Gray Bees don't tour just any college campus. The college visit program at St. Benedict's Prep mostly plans visits to the schools where recent graduates are enrolled. "We want to expose our students to something more than just the stock admissions presentation," explained Dean of Administration Mike Scanlan H'97, who has accompanied seniors on many of these trips. "Alumni understand where our kids are coming from. It's a chance to have an honest conversation."

COVID-19 may have thwarted physical visits to campuses, but college-bound Gray Bees are still getting the straight scoop on schools from their older Benedict's brothers. B-CART (Benedict's College Alumni Round Tables), which was launched during Fall Term by Mr. Scanlan and College Counselor Jacob Drill, brings the two groups together in a virtual environment.

B-CARTs to date have included virtual visits to University of Delaware, Fairfield University, Boston College, George Washington University, Morehouse College and Lehigh University. Dean of College Guidance Didier Jean-Baptiste '86 is excited about the program's possibilities beyond this pandemic year. "We can't make it out to Northwestern University or Saint John's University in Minnesota every year. B-CART is expanding the range of schools we can open our guys' eyes to."

BOSTON COLLEGE

Gray Bees Find a Way

Had COVID-19 not hit, Gray Bee soccer would be chasing its 14th national championship. With the regular high school season gutted and fewer opportunities to compete, the prolonged pandemic was potentially devastating for guys who make an enormous commitment to play soccer at St. Benedict's Prep. So, the country's premier soccer program got creative and moved to the Eastern Development Program (EDP) club league this fall.

"We're excited about the new direction," Coach Jim Wandling '92 told the St. Benedict's community during Virtual Convo on September 29. The move allows an independent schedule, a number of out-of-state games and a season that now stretches from fall until spring. "This is something we've been talking about doing for a while now. We believe it will offer our guys a higher level of competition and also put them in a higher stage in regard to college recruiting."

The Varsity U19 team quickly established a winning record in the league. As St. Benedict's Prep magazine went to press, the team's record was 5-0 in club league play. The team is adhering to all guidelines set forth by the CDC for COVID-19. Players are keeping the greater Gray Bee community posted on their progress at Virtual Convo; followers of the program can also get the latest soccer news on the School's Facebook and Instagram accounts.

While classes were held virtually, all fall sports teams continued to practice on a daily basis and compete when circumstances allowed. The cross country team, for instance, opened its season on October 3 at the Bergen County Invitational at Woodland Park, and participated in a total of five meets.

The crew team also found a way to practice on the water even though the Kearny Boathouse remains shuttered due to COVID-19. After attending a U.S. Rowing webinar in May, Coach Craig White '04 connected with Brannon Johnson, program director of BLJ Community Rowing in Philadelphia, the only African-American owned and operated rowing organization in the U.S.

Once Mr. Johnson learned Gray Bee crew could not access the water, he offered the entire program — coaches, land, boats and dock — for rowers to continue training. To date, the crew team has traveled to Philadelphia three times to practice on the Schuylkill River.

29 Clubs and Activities

Many schools have had to cancel or severely limit extracurricular activities due to COVID-19. St. Benedict's Prep faculty came up with a record number of 29 clubs and activities for Fall Term. Existing and new activities are being held virtually, on the Property or in a hybrid format. A sampling of new programs includes:

HIKING CLUB

Socially-distanced, but still socially-engaged: Masked up on their inaugural hike, the new Middle Division Hiking Club has been enjoying their weekly treks through South Mountain Reservation.

HOW-TO CLUB

How-To Club members engage in new experiences that allow them to create more endings to this sentence: "I know how to..."

RENAISSANCE CLUB

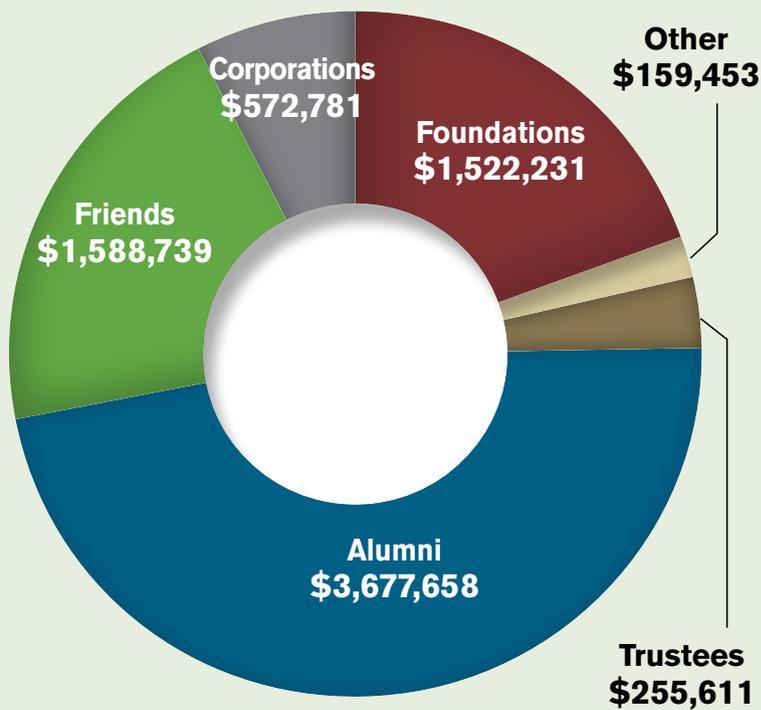

History teacher Richard Gallerani leads The Renaissance Society, an online club dedicated to the exploration of a wide range of interests. This term, the Renaissance Society will create crafts from ordinary things from around the home, as well as from a list of supplies available to club members.

The Omnes Pariter Society, our planned giving society, recognizes alumni and friends who have told us of their intention to make a gift to St. Benedict's through their will or estate plan. The phrase "omnes pariter" comes from the Rule of St. Benedict. Monte Cassino Society

Monte Cassino, the rocky hill near Rome, Italy, and site of St. Benedict of Nursia's first monastery, is the physical foundation upon which the Benedictine Order was built. The Monte Cassino Society is a core group of alumni and friends who serve as the financial foundation of St. Benedict's Preparatory School. These generous believers have demonstrated an admirable dedication to the School's mission and students by making an investment of $1,000 or more. Recent graduates (last 15 years) who invested at specific levels are recognized as Associate Members.

GIFTS BY CLASS

We are grateful to our alumni for their generosity and continuous support. Annual Giving totals for each class include cash received, as well as gifts- and services-in-kind. Donors who made a pledge, but not a payment toward it, in FY20 are listed with their class and counted in Class Participation percentages. However, pledge amounts are not counted in Annual Giving totals to avoid duplicate counting in the subsequent years when payment is received. Honorary alumni are listed with their class, but are not counted in Participation or Annual Giving totals. Thank you.

Support something special.
Your legacy and their future.

Planned gifts are simple to arrange and often return benefits to you.

- ✓ Make a gift today that costs you nothing through your will or trust
- ✓ Receive guaranteed payments for life in return for your gift
- ✓ Donate life insurance you no longer need
- ✓ Save big on taxes by giving appreciated stocks, bonds or mutual funds
- ✓ Donate your house or vacation property, take a tax deduction and continue to use the property for as long as you want
- ✓ Transfer money directly from your retirement account to meet your required minimum distribution and pay no federal income tax

The Campaign for St. Benedict's Preparatory School

Forward, Always Forward

Everything you read in this Annual Report was made possible, in part, by the generous backing of our Annual Fund donors. Your gift helps supplement tuition fees to do everything from paying faculty salaries to providing financial aid, funding athletic programs and other extracurricular activities.

Help The Hive move forward and make a gift to the Annual Fund by December 31!

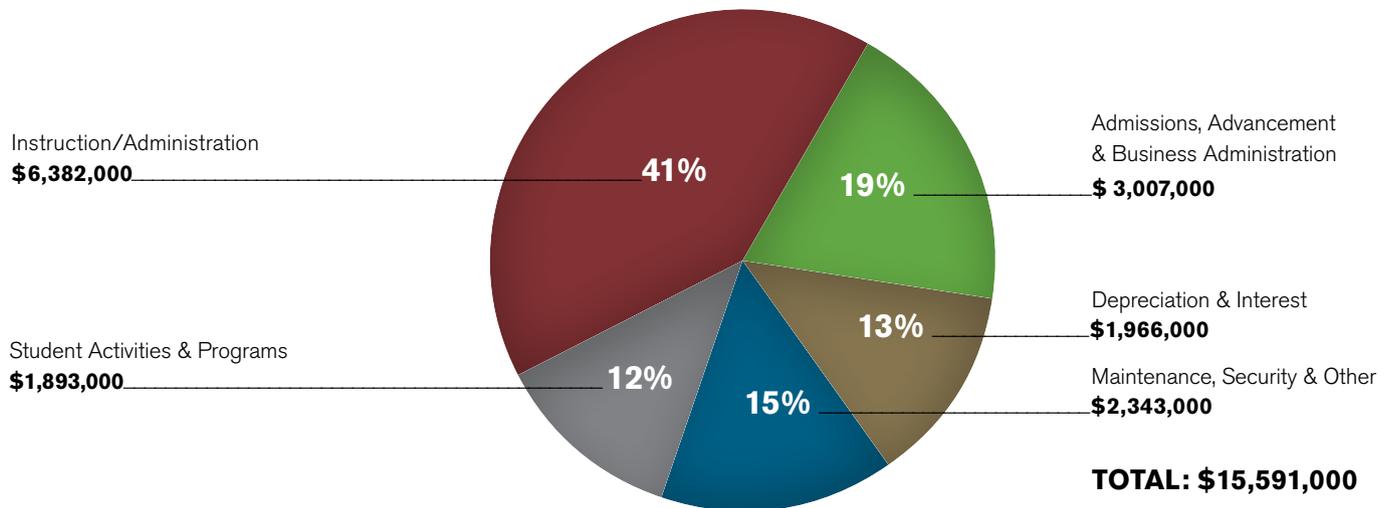

To make a gift, visit www.sbp.org/AlwaysForward. To learn more about our Advancement efforts here at The Hive, contact Senior Director of Advancement John Huss '81 at (973) 792-5753 or jhuss@sbp.org.
