2018-2019 Annual Report

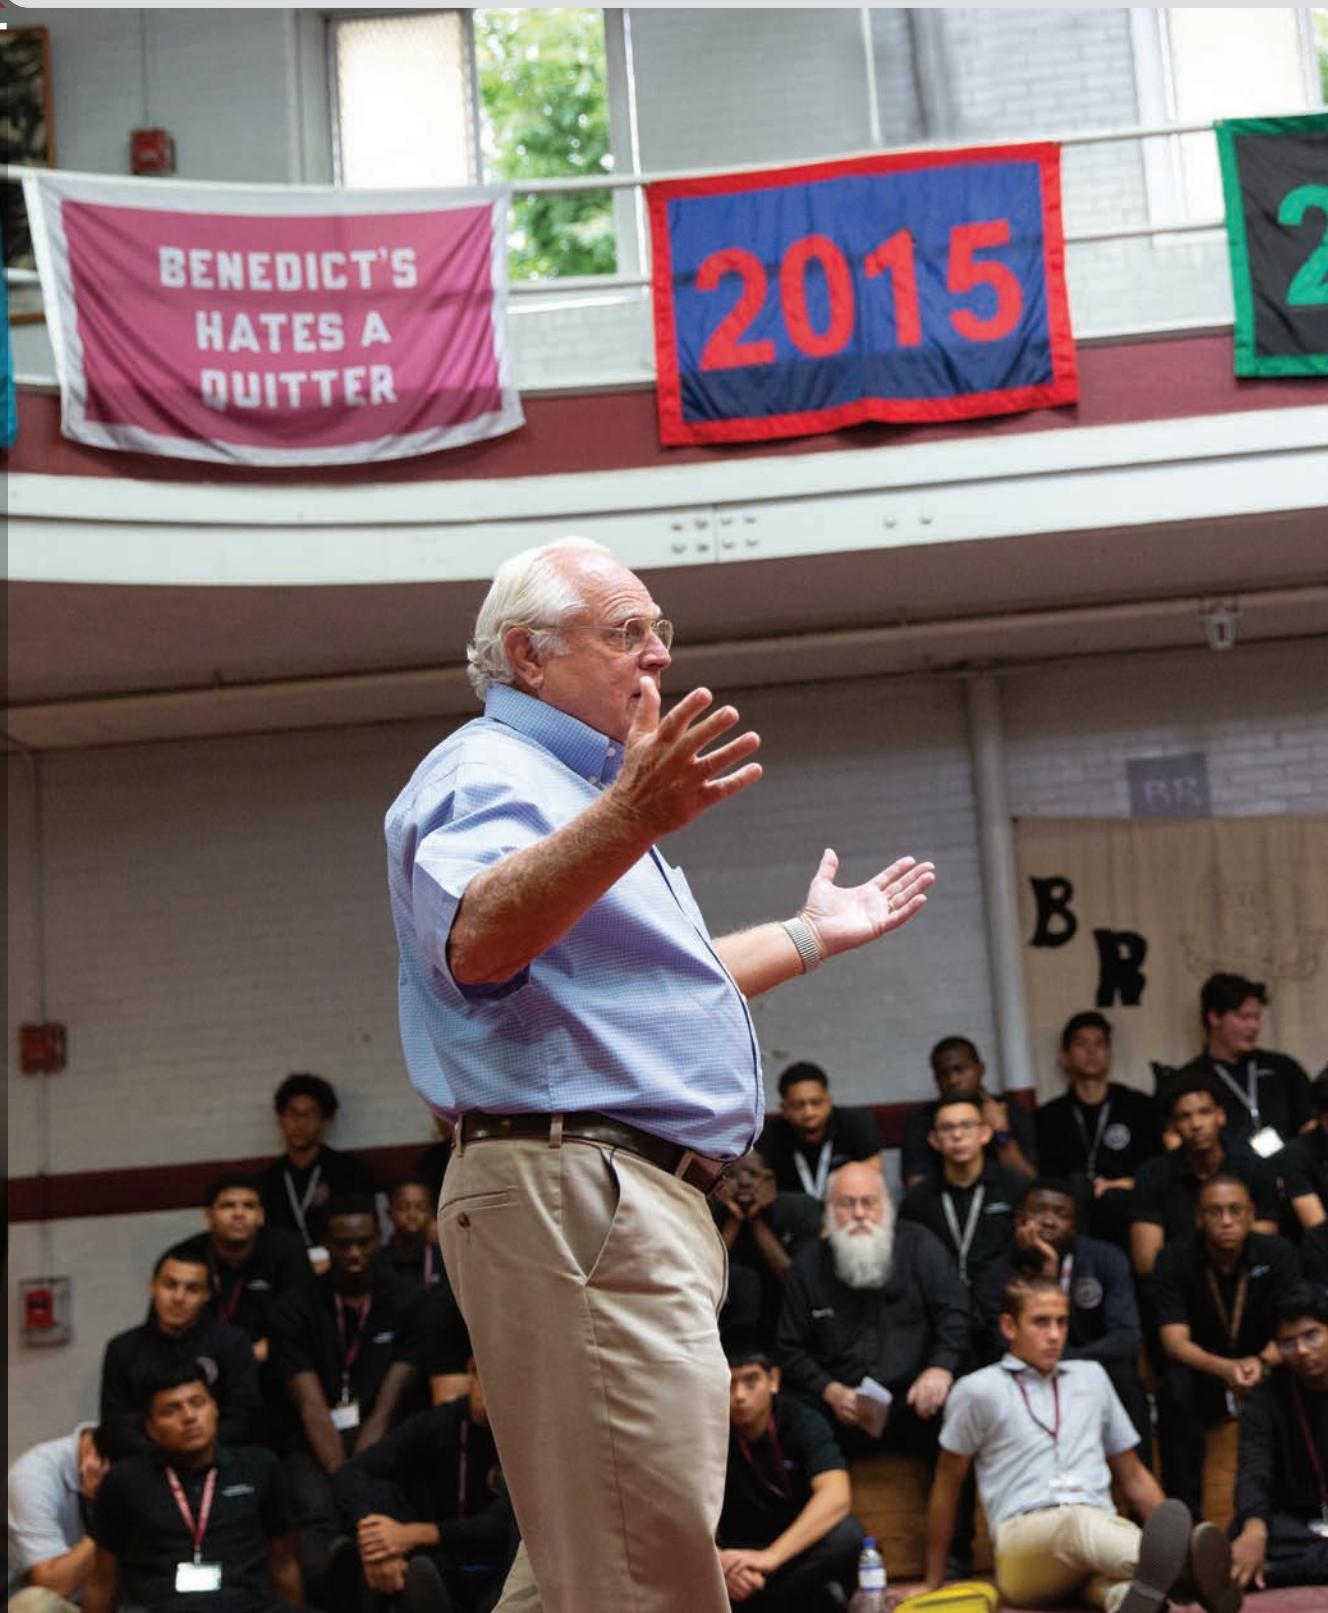

The Gray Bee Who Refused to Quit

Gray Bees rely on the St. Benedict's Prep motto "Benedict's Hates A Quitter" years after graduating The Hive. None more so than George T. Coker '61, the retired Naval Commander who addressed Convocation on September 16. In 1966, while serving as a naval officer in Vietnam, Cmdr. Coker's A-6 was shot down in North Vietnam. He survived more than six years in captivity and extreme torture as a POW, and spoke about the inner strength he drew from his years at St. Benedict's and from scouting.

"I had to keep going no matter what," he told the students, faculty and administrators who gathered for Convocation.

"It was my duty to survive. Second by second, you keep doing what you've been raised, taught, trained and ingrained to do. You step forward as best you can and never quit doing that." Cmdr. Coker urged Prep and Middle Division students to persist despite the challenges they may face in their own lives. "You've got to give it your all," he advised. "You can't take any shortcuts."

GREETINGS

When we do our part, kids do theirs.

A school as successful and rare as St. Benedict's Prep relies on everyone doing their part. The monks of Newark Abbey do their part by guiding and sustaining the mission of St. Benedict's and in their spiritual commitment to students and the City of Newark. Faculty, administrators, coaches and staff do their part by accompanying kids every day, whether they work directly with students or support a 24/7 operation that provides a safe environment for them to learn and grow.

Kids do their part too, when they challenge themselves to do better, work as a team and accept responsibility for themselves and others.

Donors — all 3,193 of you listed in this Annual Report — have done your part, as well. The generosity you showed St. Benedict's in 2018–2019 is vital for us to keep going. Together we raised more than $10.9 million, the most dollars raised since 2006. Alumni participation increased for the fourth consecutive year to 34%, and the number of alumni donors reached 1,812, the most ever. Thank you for the faith you place in this institution. We couldn't do it without you.

We know the lessons students take from The Hive build a foundation for a lifetime. We hope you will continue to do your part in supporting St. Benedict's, so kids can do theirs.

Sincerely,

STAGE RAGE IS A MODEL FOR BENEDICTINE SCHOOLS

Benedictine secondary schools from around the world experienced the impact of Stage Rage at BENet 2019, the international gathering of Benedictine educators held earlier this fall in Sydney, Australia.

Stage Rage, a Spring Phase program, was developed in 2015 by Drama Guild Director Patricia Flynn H'95 and Assistant Headmaster for Student Life Ivan Lamourt, Psy.D. '82. By giving Gray Bees a voice to express their emotions, the theater-based program has an established track record of success. "Because of its effectiveness, we're looking to expand the program," explained Ms. Flynn. BENet 2019 provided the perfect opportunity, and St. Benedict's workshop proposal on Stage Rage, "Healing Hearts," was accepted by a committee organizing the International Commission on Benedictine Education (ICBE) conference.

A number of faculty and administrators were involved in the international workshop in Australia and at Newark Abbey. Ms. Flynn, Dean of the Middle Division Jim Duffy H'16 and Science Teacher Rich Molina '06 represented St. Benedict's at BENet 2019. While Ms. Flynn conducted the workshop, Dr. Lamourt facilitated a discussion of reflections that emerged in the workshop thanks to live streaming set up by Director of Technology Dexter Lopina '98. Headmaster

Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63 weighed in from Newark, providing insight on Stage Rage's role in accompaniment and how it helps kids in emotional distress.

For Ms. Flynn, it was important that Benedictine educators experience Stage Rage the way students do. "I wanted the educators to do the exercises that are key to releasing vulnerabilities," she said. Participants created mask drawings and practiced a theatrical technique called Tableau theatre. "These artistic exercises resonate therapeutically," said Ms. Flynn. "People stepped forward and made themselves vulnerable."

Following the conference, Ms. Flynn has corresponded with a Benedictine school in Tanzania that wants to adopt Stage Rage, while other conferees said "Healing Hearts" made the trip to Australia worthwhile. The next ICBE conference will be held in Rio de Janeiro in 2022.

Good Problem to Have

At the start of the academic year, the Class of 2020 set its own record of distinction at The Hive. The 132-member senior class is St. Benedict's largest senior class in recent memory. In recent years, the senior class has numbered approximately 100.

The increase is due to a number of factors, including an increase in transfer students and higher than projected retention. Though the increased size of the graduating class places even greater demands on everything from academics to athletics and college guidance, Headmaster Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63 said, "This is a good problem to have. The faculty and administration have risen to the challenge of caring for and guiding this class of 132 guys. It's an inspiring and energizing thing to witness."

"We're getting more guys involved in the leadership team, even if they don't have an official title."

— Jonathan Oniyama '20

Senior Group Leader Jonathan Oniyama '20 said the increased size of the class is a boon for the Group System. "The seniors have been stepping up a lot," he noted. "We're getting more guys involved in the leadership team, even if they don't have an official title."

Admissions for the entire School grew for the second year in a row to 800 students in 2019-2020. It includes 504 in the Prep Division, 128 in the Middle Division and 168 in the Elementary Division.

CLASS OF 2023 PLANS AHEAD

College Placement extends services, thanks to Grossman Family Foundation

Freshman year is an optimum time for kids to start thinking about their lives after The Hive, according to Dean of Seniors and College Placement Didier Jean-Baptiste '86. "You just need the manpower [to help them] plan," he said. College Placement now has that manpower thanks to an endowment established in 2013 by the Grossman Family Foundation, which supports a larger team composed of Mr. Jean-Baptiste, College Placement Counselor Jacob Drill (see profile, page 4), History Teacher Susanne Mueller, who devotes free periods and afterschool hours to college planning, and Noreen Connolly H'11, who helps students with their college essays.

Since the College Placement team established a comprehensive and effective process for seniors, teachers of underclassmen have joined the effort. This fall, Dean of Freshmen Bill Petrick and Chair of the Math Department and Freshman Formation Craig White brought the entire 150-member Class of 2023 to Rutgers University in New Brunswick, where they attended an information session and toured the campus. The objective isn't to give kids a "head start" on college essays or other application logistics, but rather, to develop the mindset they need to set goals and plan for the future. "The goal is to build an appreciation for the cause and effect relationship between the decisions they make now as freshmen and the opportunities that can be available to them ultimately by their senior year," said Mr. Jean-Baptiste. "The more students can go and see colleges, the more motivated they'll be."

"The more students can go and see colleges, the more motivated they'll be."

— Didier Jean-Baptiste '86

NEWARK ABBEY GROWS AGAIN

Postulant Moisés Islas is now Br. Robert Islas, O.S.B. The new monk was received into the novitiate at Newark Abbey by Abbot Melvin Valvano, O.S.B. '56 and the monastic community on October 16. Br. Robert is from Jalisco, Mexico. He arrived at Newark Abbey and began formation as a postulant in June and joins a growing monastic community.

Br. Mark Martin DiLone, O.S.B. professed simple vows in December 2018; Br. Simon Peter Clayton, O.S.B. '08 and Br. Asiel Rodriguez, O.S.B. are preparing to take solemn vows in March 2020. As a novice, Br. Robert will continue to discern his religious vocation through study of the Rule of St. Benedict, scripture, monastic history, liturgy and prayerful service to Newark Abbey. The monastic community posted on its website newarkabbey.org, "God willing Br. Robert will take simple vows next October 17, 2020 – The Feast of St. Ignatius of Antioch."

DOING OUR PART

A Reassuring Presence

For 19 years, Doris Lamourt has been the first point of contact for hundreds of prospective students seeking a St. Benedict's Prep education. "I love it," said Ms. Lamourt, who serves as Senior Administrative Assistant for Admissions and Financial Aid, handling admissions for K-13 and carefully stewarding financial aid for the Middle and Prep divisions.

A former healthcare administrator, Ms. Lamourt arrived at The Hive in November 2000, the height of admissions season. "It was a trial by fire," she recalled with a laugh. Fr. Mark Payne, O.S.B. '69, then Director of Admissions, wanted to return to the classroom. "My first day, Fr. Mark said, 'I'm going to go teach!' He left admissions, and I began to learn everything."

Within months, Ms. Lamourt became a reassuring presence at The Hive, and year after year, students still seek out her help long after the admissions process is over. "When they graduate, I see how far they've come," she said. "Some of them come back. That's the good part!"

Enjoying Every Day

Before he became a full-time College Placement Counselor in 2018, Jacob Drill was an unpaid intern who counseled graduating seniors at The Hive. "I wanted to go back to doing something I would enjoy doing every day," said Mr. Drill, who had a career in publishing and was a stay-at-home dad. Getting back into the work force, he became interested in college guidance, and in particular, opening doors for students from less privileged backgrounds. After an informational meeting with Dean of Seniors and College Placement Didier Jean-Baptiste '86, Mr. Drill realized, "The list of what Didier was doing was so long, I thought I could help out."

Now in his third year at The Hive, Mr. Drill is an instrumental member of a team that is helping 132 seniors navigate the college application process from beginning to end. In addition to meeting with seniors and selecting appropriate schools, College Placement organizes campus visits and helps with the FAFSA applications for federal student aid, as well as the rest of the financial and review process, all while focusing on matching Gray Bees with colleges that meet their full financial need. "We're involved in every aspect of the process," Mr. Drill noted.

The 132-member senior class, the largest in recent history, has also increased the workload, but Mr. Drill isn't fazed in the least. "We have a good team in place," he said. "One of the things I really like is interacting with the students and knowing that we're providing a service most don't have access to."

Some work directly with students and families. Some work behind the scenes. They're all doing their part to accompany kids at St. Benedict's Prep.

In Capable Hands

If you're going to run a school like a 24/7 diner, as Headmaster Fr. Edwin Leahy, O.S.B. '63 so often stipulates, the management of the property needs to be in the most capable of hands. Fr. Ed found the perfect match in Luis Ramos (left) who has served as Director of Facilities for eight years and recently became Supervisor for Security, too. It took some convincing to bring Mr. Ramos to The Hive. Mr. Ramos, who is married to Religion Teacher Jenny Ramos and dad to Isaiah Ramos '23, was impressed with the School and even counseled students through The Neocatechumenal Way, a charism within the Catholic Church dedicated to Christian formation. But he had also worked hard to become Director of Facilities at Nordstrom at Garden State Plaza and Nordstrom Rack in Paramus, the position he held before coming to St. Benedict's. "Leaving that job was a big thing for me," Mr. Ramos recalled. "But little by little, I began to see the necessity of this place."

Even though he supervises a team of 14, it's rare to find Mr. Ramos in his office. On any given day, he and his team may respond to 50 calls, texts and emails on top of planned maintenance and upkeep of academic facilities, athletic facilities, the Monastery and Leahy House. "Every day is a challenge," he said. "I'm grateful to be a part of this community and to do my best every day."

Cesar Hernandez (right), who came to The Hive four years ago, is integral to the Maintenance Team and has impressed the St. Benedict's Prep community with his quick and thorough response to issues. He, too, feels part of the School's mission to accompany kids. "It makes me feel good about working here," Mr. Hernandez said. "I see the kids' struggles and what they overcome to graduate. They're good kids."

Love the Community. Love the Kids.

Philmon "Phil" McFadden radiates an air of no-nonsense calm in the midst of The Hive's swarm. The retired Newark police officer has been a member of the Community Safety Team at St. Benedict's Prep for 16 years. "Our main job, first and foremost, is the safety of the community, all the kids and the faculty," said Mr. McFadden. "It's all about safety."

He first got the idea of working for the School when he came to a Meet the Teachers night for his son, Philmon Jr. '09, and began on the 2-10 p.m. shift. When Mr. McFadden retired from the police force one year later, he quickly became the face of the Community Safety Team because of his ability to get along with everyone and take charge of difficult situations. "Training helps," he explained. "Sometimes, I have to diffuse a situation and get everybody to calm down. If everyone is yelling, you're going to have a problem." The soft-spoken Mr. McFadden, who served three years in the Army before entering the Police Academy, is also part of the School's Emergency Response Team.

While his duties include greeting visitors and monitoring a bank of security cameras, it's obvious that the students are the favorite part of the job. "I love the community, I love the kids," he said. "Sometimes you may just be the person they need to sit down and vent to. I try to encourage them the best I can."

AFTERCLASS

TWO NEWEST MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Mark M. Lee, Esq. '92 and Naml Lewis '93 are doing their part for The Hive by stewarding the future of the School as members of the Board of Trustees.

You are both very successful professionals. What led you to St. Benedict's Prep as students?

Mark: Growing up in Newark, unfortunately there were not very many suitable educational options around at the time. My mother heard about Benedict's soon after we moved here, and quickly identified it as a place to help my brother (Joe Lee '93) and me realize our full potential. We were fortunate. Even though my mother was a single parent, she always provided us with the support we needed to grow and develop. The structure provided by a school like Benedict's was an important part of her plan.

During my four years here I was challenged a great deal. The lessons I learned were necessary for my development. I don't know what I would have become had I not gone to Benedict's, but there is unquestionably a level of achievement that would not have been possible but for having this foundation.

Naml: Mark alluded to kids coming out of distressed situations. My environment was certainly distressed. I grew up in the center of Newark and my grandmothers were the primary forces in my life after losing my parents at a young age. They did an excellent job of making sure I had the things I needed, but it was still a difficult and challenging neighborhood. I came to St. Benedict's with a group of three other guys and it was eye opening, to say the least. Given the nature of our environment, most of us had a chip on our shoulder.

I initially had a difficult time dealing with authority. Given the fact that the students running the School were around my age, that was something I struggled with and had to get used to. What St. Benedict's gave me was the base and foundation to focus on school. Most of my neighborhood friends went to public school. A number got caught up selling drugs, and unfortunately, a lot are not even here today. So, that contrast between school and the neighborhood was pretty stark. But it gives you the ability to operate in different types of environments. I think my overall experience here was critical to my success.

You both mentioned building a foundation at The Hive. What did St. Benedict's do for you?

Mark: The importance of establishing goals and creating a plan to achieve those goals was a constant lesson that was taught to me here at St. Benedict's. Whether it was an academic achievement, athletic pursuit, or in student leadership, Benedict's gave me a platform to use and develop my talents in ways that greatly enhanced my learning experience. For the first time in my life, I identified things I wanted to achieve, and constructed plans to try and get there.

Another important foundational lesson that I got from Benedict's is accountability and the importance of working together. For the first time in my life, I had a community of people counting on me for results and holding me accountable for not doing my best. But it was also okay (and expected) for me to hold others accountable, as well. It wasn't okay to show up late for practice or not do your best in the classroom. It was also unacceptable to let your classmates or teammates fall short, if it was within your power to help them. When I look back on the things that I have been fortunate enough to achieve in my life so far, many of those accomplishments can be traced back to the lessons I learned here.

Naml: Those are definitely all good points. The School provides to students, and to me particularly, a safe space. I was always self-motivated because I wanted to get out of the environment that I was in. And there are a lot of kids in this community who are self-motivated, but they don't exist within an environment that supports and fosters that drive. Benedict's provides a safety zone. When you come here, you know that you don't have to worry about the roadblocks that impede your ability to learn. So, the decisions you make can be made based on a completely different set of factors.

I think the notion of accountability is key. We all drove each other. It was competitive in a good way. We all wanted to excel and move forward, but the objective wasn't to leave someone else behind. You worked to bring all of your brothers along. It teaches you how to work within a team to achieve a common goal. And even if you are fiercely independent like me, it reins you in a bit and helps you understand that you can't do it all on your own.

Mark, you were appointed to the Board of Trustees in 2018. Naml, you became a Trustee this year. What was your involvement with St. Benedict's prior to board service?

Mark: Aside from the years that I lived in North Carolina, I've made it a point to stay connected with the School. When one of my classmates, Sharif Muhammad '92, was finishing up his term on the Board of Trustees, we discussed my possible involvement on the Board. For me it was another way to give back to the School, but also learn a little bit more about this place and find other ways that I could be helpful. It's just another way to keep me connected.

Naml: Unlike Mark, I lost connectivity with St. Benedict's just through the normal course of life. Tangentially, I continued to hear about the good things that were happening here. Then four years ago, I received a call from the School regarding organizing a visit to Morgan Stanley for Summer Phase students in a personal finance class to help them gain exposure to finance. It was a really good experience, so we made it a yearly event. During that time, I learned a colleague of mine read The Short and Tragic Life of Robert Peace. I brought some clients and colleagues who cared about education together, and Fr. Ed spoke about the book and the work at St. Benedict's. That started this chain of introducing people to the School, working with the Advancement Office and meeting with members of the Board. They thought I might be a good addition.

Why are you willing to make this commitment to the School?

Mark: It's a way to invest in a place that invested so much in me. A lot of my potential was unlocked here, so I want to make sure the School is as vibrant and as fit as possible to give to other kids what I was able to get out of my brief time here. Whenever I come back to St. Benedict's, it inspires me again. It makes me feel good to be connected to a place that's doing so much good in my hometown.

Naml: When given the chance to serve on this Board, I didn't hesitate because it's such an important cause. There's an education crisis in our country. The disparity between the haves and have-nots as it relates to education is unsustainable and detrimental to our entire society. Benedict's has a solution to that crisis. And I know the School is intently focused on not just serving Newark and this community, but serving the nation. However I can be helpful, I certainly want to be involved.

Anything you want to say to Gray Bees from the 90s about fostering their own connection to St. Benedict's?

Mark: Sometimes life gets in the way. It's not that people don't want to be connected, it's just not always easy. Come back when you can. Even if there's no special event, you're always welcome at Convocation. And make yourself accessible to the students. Just like we did when we were here, they need to see and hear from alumni in all walks of life. Another way, frankly, is to give. I know there's this idea that if you can't give a huge amount of money it's not useful. Having been on the Board for a year, I can tell you that gifts both big and small are essential to the financial well-being of the School.

Naml: You can give back in a variety of ways, whether it's supporting a student through mentorship or providing some exposure to your profession. Give back financially in whatever capacity you can. I appreciate all our experiences here were different. But know that it's not about individual agendas, it's about the institution itself. If there are concerns as it relates to giving, let's overcome them and focus on what's most important, the students that are here now and the students that are to come. Remember, "Whatever Hurts My Brother Hurts Me."

Mark M. Lee, Esq. '92 is a Partner in the White Collar Defense & Investigations practice group at BlankRome in Philadelphia. He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a J.D. from Temple University. Naml Lewis '93 is an Executive Director in the Institutional Equities Division at Morgan Stanley in New York. He holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Syracuse University.

Monte Cassino Society

Monte Cassino, the rocky hill near Rome, Italy, and site of St. Benedict of Nursia's first monastery, is the physical foundation upon which the Benedictine Order was built. The Monte Cassino Society is a core group of alumni and friends who serve as the financial foundation of St. Benedict's Preparatory School. These generous believers have demonstrated an admirable dedication to the School's mission and students by making an investment of $1,000 or more. Recent graduates (last 15 years) who invested at specific levels are recognized as Associate Members.

GIFTS BY CLASS

We are grateful to our alumni for their generosity and continuous support. Annual Giving totals for each class include cash received, as well as gifts- and services-in-kind. Donors who made a pledge, but not a payment toward it, in FY19 are listed with their class and counted in Class Participation percentages. However, pledge amounts are not counted in Annual Giving totals to avoid duplicate counting in the subsequent years when payment is received. Honorary alumni are listed with their class, but are not counted in Participation or Annual Giving totals. Thank you.
